In my student days, two places stood out like stars in the night - the ASVZ sports club, full of energy and teamwork, and the bQm bar, where friends gathered to unwind. These spots hold a special place in my heart. My memories of them are like a happy spin, full of laughter and good times. But thereafter... .

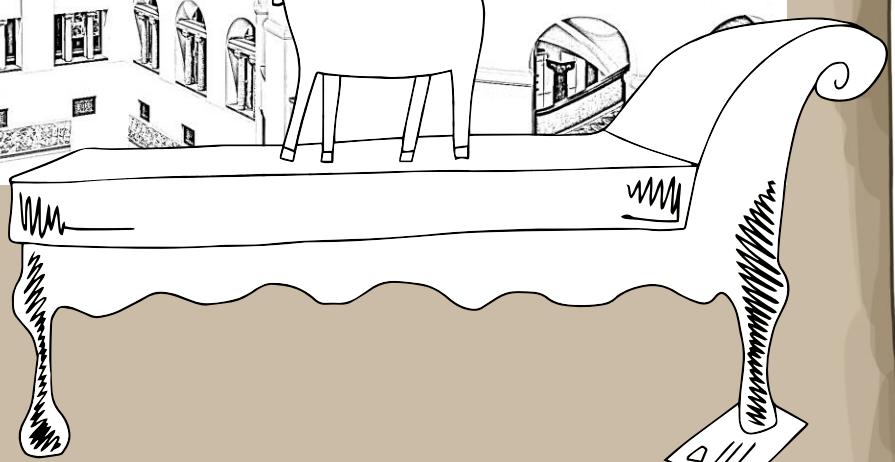

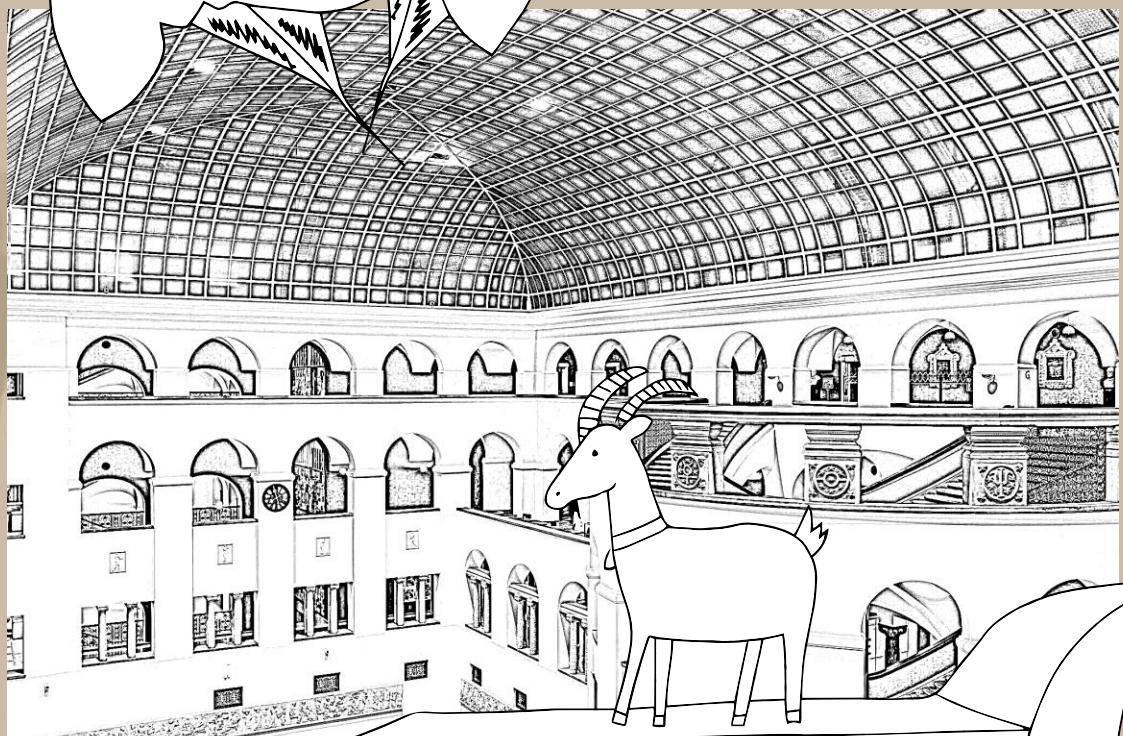

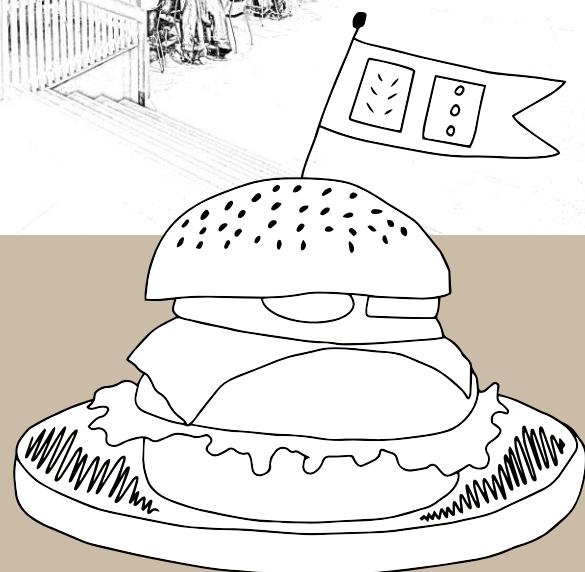

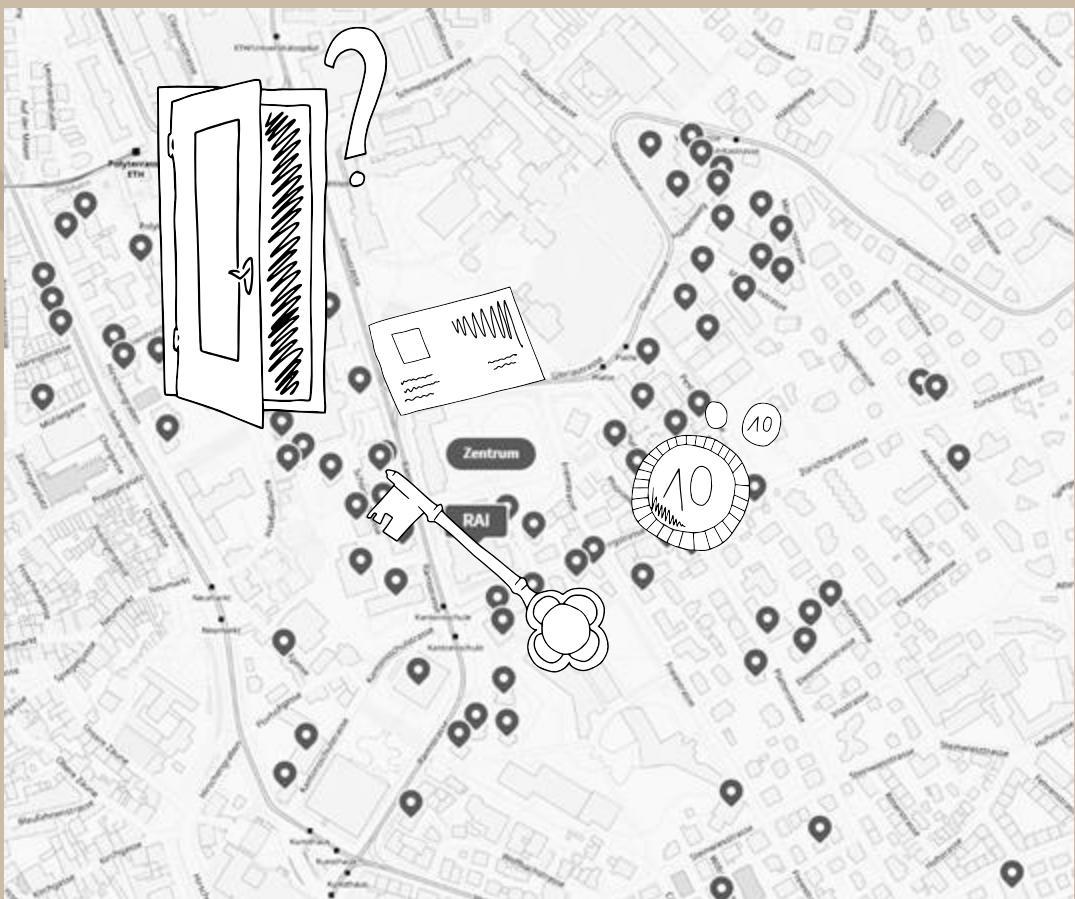

During my days as a student at the University of Zurich, I had the privilege of attending lectures by an esteemed professor, who was affectionately referred to as the "Grey Eminence". Remarkably, he also held the distinguished position of the Principal of the university ("Rektor") at the time. His name eludes me now, but his lectures were nothing short of captivating - truly the crème de la crème.

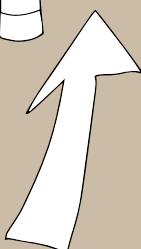

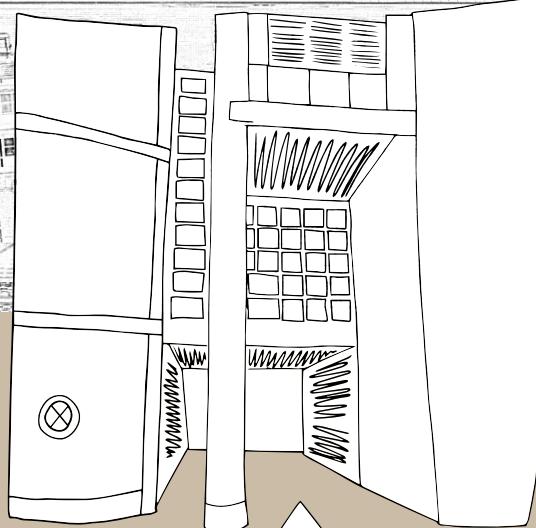

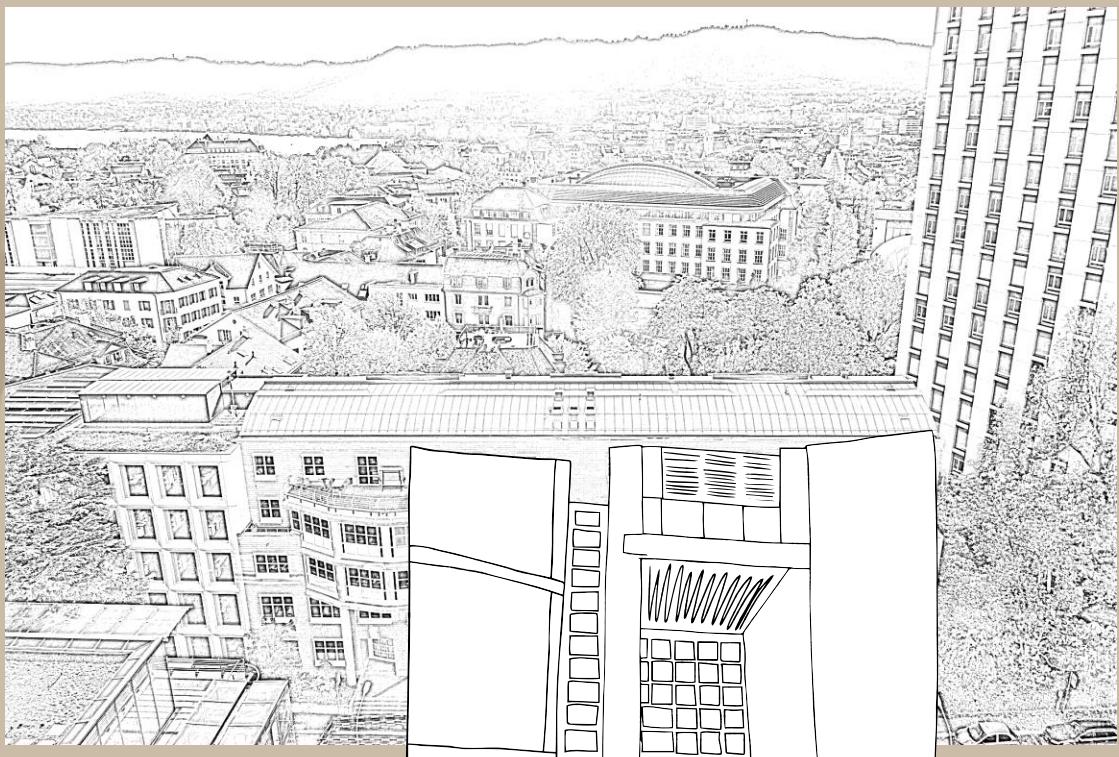

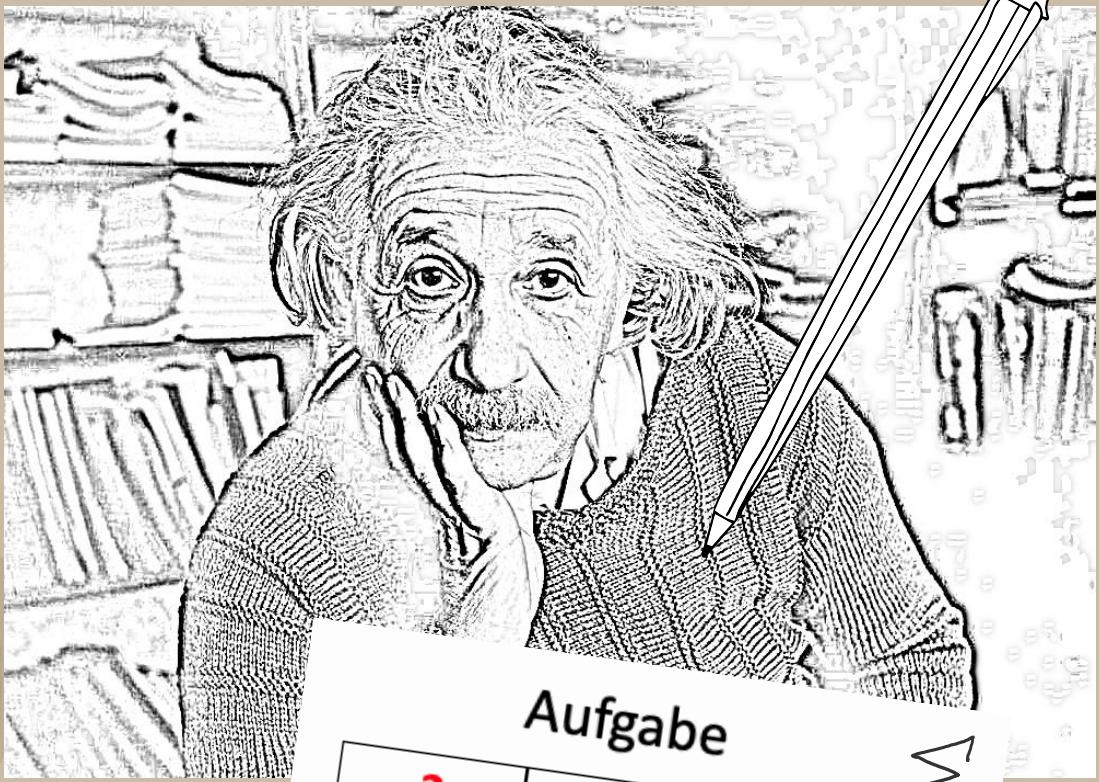

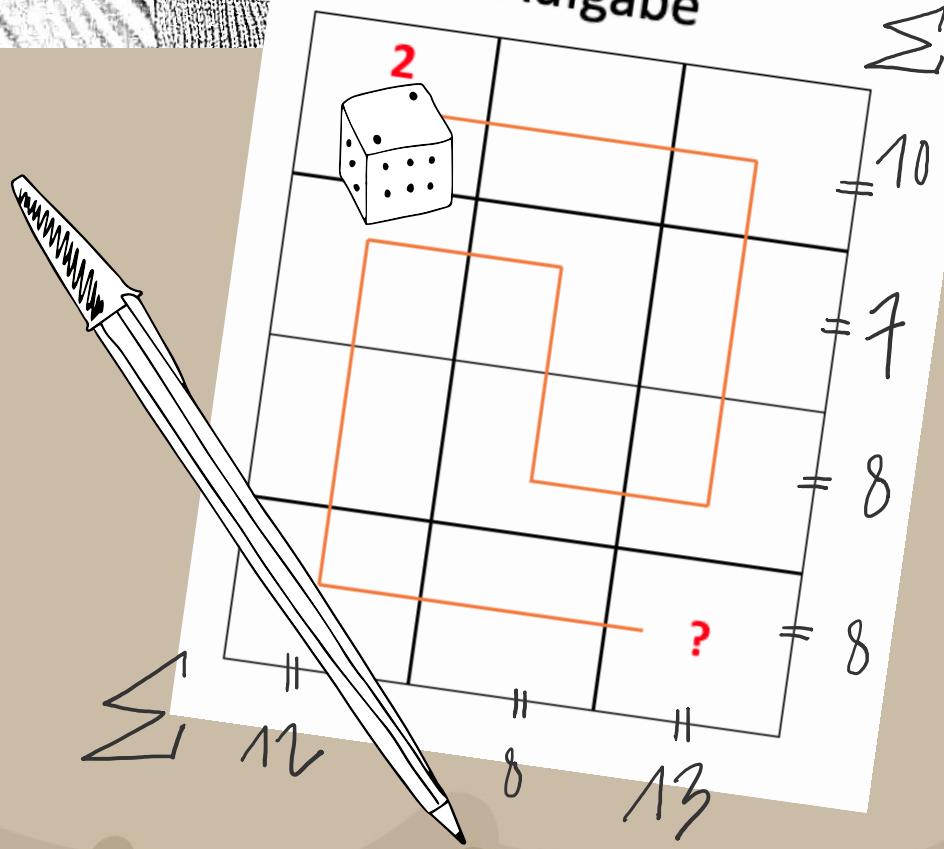

Upon this parchment, a treasure map unfolds, whereupon I have diligently marked each element known to me that could be instrumental in the quest for the fabled Instant University Diploma. Though my heart brims with hope, I must, with a note of caution, confide that I cannot vouch for the unwavering accuracy of these markings. Tread carefully, dear seeker, and let this map be the wind in your sails as you navigate the uncharted waters of this adventure.
